Mordecai Walker, Teacher For Life

ST. PETERSBURG - A recent benediction of the school was given by Bishop and Gibbs High School, who are “Associate” in the Quantum Opportunities after-school intervention program, run by a visionary local non-profit organization, the Center for Community and Economic Justice, Inc. (CCEJ).

CCU - Quantum enrolled two separate teams of 3 Quantum Program participants, who have used their computer science skills and American history knowledge to win bronze medals, sophisticated electronic devices and even a new laptop computer. The competition in which the students competed was the Technology Round, held on the Bradenton campus of Hillsborough Community College, sponsored by the Publix Supermarket Company.

The Bronze Medalist for the third place of the State Boot Camp Challenge Race to Excellence, held on the Gibbs campus of St. Petersburg College, was sponsored by the Google and the Florida Education Fund. The Quantum Opportunities Program was running at the CCFHE Headquarters at 1330 Central Avenue in St. Petersburg, for about one year. According to Quantum’s Executive Director, Dr. Yvonne Scrogg-Leake, 65 students from Gibbs and St. Petersburg High Schools, were randomly selected for membership in Quantum, which aims “to provide opportunities to all students in the VAMC community and allow for personalized, individualized variances and opportunities to all students in the VAMC community.”

‘Churchin’ In The Park: You Still Have Time!
6th Annual Gospel Fest kicks off next weekend

On the 21st of February, we all know that Black history is in continuous and pertinent to history. Gospel music is a staple of Black history and one of the foundations for strength, support, and sometimes survival in times of struggle. It is defined as a form of music rooted in African American culture, originating in the Southern United States in the 19th century. The genre is characterized by a mixture of spirituals, hymns, and folksongs, which were passed down through generations.

There are thousands of songs that have been passed down through generations, and each has its own story. Some were written about the struggle for freedom, while others were written about love and joy. Still, others were written about the struggles and triumphs of the Civil Rights Movement. In this section, we will explore some of the most popular and influential songs in the genre.

When you experience the power of gospel music, you will find yourself moved by the words and the music. You will feel a sense of peace and joy that is hard to describe. You will feel as though you are part of something greater than yourself. Gospel music is about more than just singing; it is about a way of life.

In conclusion, gospel music is a powerful tool that can bring people together and inspire them to do great things. It is a part of our history and will continue to be a part of our future. So, the next time you hear a gospel song, take a moment to appreciate the history behind it and the legacy it has left with us.

“Celebrating Our History Is An Everyday Thing”

Little Known Stories Of Blacks And The Civil War

Black Union Soldiers Were The First To Triumphantly Enter Richmond, April 3, 1865 by A. Peter Bailey

When Jacob, in 1895, the Springfield Information Director, received a request from the Virginia Historical Society in Richmond, Virginia, for a union history book, he saw it as an opportunity to highlight the role of the Black Union Soldiers in the Civil War.

In the spring of 1862, the first Black Union soldiers began to arrive in Richmond, Virginia. They were a part of the Union army and were used to dig trenches and build roads, which was a dangerous and vital task. These soldiers were the first to enter Richmond, and their bravery and sacrifice should not be forgotten.

In conclusion, the Black Union soldiers played a vital role in the Civil War, and their sacrifice should not be forgotten. Their bravery and courage should be celebrated and remembered.
